

FIG CONGRESS 2006, MUNICH, GERMANY

DVW has already nominated the Congress Director for the FIG event 2006 in Munich. Dipl.-Ing. Marcus Wandinger will be responsible for both the FIG Congress and the parallel running German surveyors Congress InterGEO.

The venue of the congress will be the new Fair Centre in Munich that offers all facilities for a successful international congress. The hosting association DVW is confident to provide the required frame for the remarkable FIG Congress.

Until next year the complete organising team will be elected. It will be responsible to draw up the corporate identity, the corporate design, the web performance and the motto. First results will be presented to the 24th General Assembly 2001 in Seoul, Korea.

They will contact the FIG administration and the Commission officers to secure an appropriate space in the Congress timetable for all necessary meetings and events. DVW is lucky to have already assured the Congress organisation a powerful support by the Bavarian surveying administration.

Andreas Drees
Vice President of the DVW
(German Association of Surveyors)

19 May 2000